7 Germans To Die For Killing U. S. Airmen

TWO WOMEN IN GROUP GIVEN DEATH PENALTY

Military Court Sentences
Three Others To Long
Prison Terms

VILLAGERS ARE STUNNED

Germans Shocked By Severe
Penalties For Murder
Of Six Fliers

DARMSTADT, Aug. 1 — The residents of the bomb-ruined town of Darmstadt were silent today, grimly aware that seven German civilians, including two women, have been sentenced by an American military court to die.

Those sentenced to death were charged with participating in the mob murder of six United States airmen near the village of Russelsheim last August.

Three others drew long prison terms. One was acquitted. The stunned villagers sat rigidly last night while the Seventh Army military commission, after a four-hour deliberation, announced the sentences. The time and place of the hangings will be determined by Lt. Gen. Wade Haislip, commander of the Seventh.

Those who must die are: Margarete Witzler, 50, Kathie Reinhardt, 38, Joseph Hartgen, 42, Friedrich Wust, 45, Johannes Seipel, 67, Johann Oppen, 59, and Philip Gutlich, 47.

August Wolf, 43, and Heinrich Bartel, 48, were sentenced to 15 years at hard labor, while George Daum drew 25 years.

Karl Fugmann, 41, was acquitted. Gray-haired Fraulein Witzler burst into tears when Brig. Gen. Garrison Davidson read the sentences. Frau Reinhardt gasped. Seipel murmured, "I did nothing."

The others were emotionless. A dozen military police, armed with machine guns, guarded the courtroom but there was no demonstration, although the severity of the sentences apparently shocked the spectators.

In a last effort to save the defendants, German defense attorneys in summing up their case had blamed Paul Josef Goebbels' hate propaganda for instilling in German minds the idea of killing Allied aviators.

FIVE SOLDIERS ARE DISCHARGED DURING WEEK

"SHOOTING STAR" IS ARMY'S NEW JET FIGHTER

Bombing Of Jap Cities To Continue Despite Danger To Prisoners

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—The United States, however reluctantly, must continue the methodical bombing of Japan despite the enemy's diabolical practice of moving American prisoners into strategic target areas, observers said today.

The Japanese scheme, a desperate attempt to stop the destruction of their cities and industries, was disclosed last night by the State department. It brought from military men bitter denunciation and promise of revenge but none indicated belief that the bombing schedule for Japan should be changed.

Military men put it this way: American airmen will continue to be briefed carefully on the known location of all prison camps and will do their utmost to avoid them. But necessary risks must be taken rather than let a key Japanese arsenal go unscathed.

Some of the camps moved into strategic areas already have been hit and casualties among American prisoners are certain to be high. But, it was explained, the cost in American lives would be even higher if the Japanese war plants were permitted to continue turning out weapons to resist the forthcoming invasion.

The practice of placing prisoners in a target area is a violation of international law. Although it is expected to prove of no military value to the Japanese, observers here doubt that they will stop the enemy from using it. Instead, they fear that Japanese militarists will intensify it to provide propaganda for sagging home front morale.

The state department said the "persistent, methodical and deliberate" practice had been going on ever since last year when full-scale bombardment of the enemy homeland began. U. S. protests have brought no results.

The department noted that a recent Tokyo broadcast said a U. S. prison camp was hit by American bombs only last Thursday.

Official sources believed that the department was attempting to brace the public for the worst. When U. S. troops move into Japan, (Continued on Page Two)

FRENCH TROOPS TAKE CHARGE OF PIERRE LAVAL

PARIS, Aug. 1—The French press agency said today that French occupation officers have taken over custody of Pierre Laval at Innsbruck, Austria, and are questioning him.

The former Vichy premier and his wife were turned over to the French by American troops who arrested them when they landed at Linz in a German plane yesterday after being expelled from Spain.

The French agency said French troops would escort the couple to the French frontier and turn them over to civil authorities. Laval is wanted for trial as France's No. 2 arch-traitor of the war.

P-80 IN FIRST PUBLIC SHOWING

New Jet-Propelled Plane
Unveiled By U. S. A. F.
At Wright Field

DAYTON, Aug. 1—The U. S. Army Air Forces today took the wraps off its production model of the P-80 Shooting Star—new jet-propelled fighter plane which has been clocked at speeds of more than 550 miles an hour.

The Shooting Star received its first public demonstration at Wright Field here in connection with the Air Technical Service Command's "open house" celebration of the 38th anniversary of the Army Air Forces.

Originally designed to meet the challenge of the German Messerschmitt 262 and Arado 234, the Shooting Star now undoubtedly will see extensive service against the Japanese who have failed to develop any notable jet planes, the ATSC said.

Col. George E. Price, Army project officer for the Shooting Star, said the sleek P-80 with its record weight of only 8,000 pounds and its 45,000 horsepower ceiling represented "the first rung of a new ladder of progress in military aviation."

"The P-80 is absolutely effortless even at maximum performance," Price said. "There is no vibration or sensation of straining. As soon as the Shooting Star picks up a little speed, you really can begin to appreciate the power."

One of the chief advantages of jet propulsion is its simplicity. Once underway the jet engine needs no ignition system. The P-80 uses kerosene instead of gasoline because it provides more energy per gallon, Price said.

In addition, he said, the elimination of the carburetor, (Continued on Page Two)

MAYOR BEN GORDON WINS IN PRIMARY

Mayor Ben H. Gordon Wednesday was assured of another term as head of the Circleville official family.

polling 24 more votes than the other two candidates together, Gordon was nominated on the Democratic ticket at the city primary Tuesday. Ernie W. Weller, who finished second in the race, carried only his own precinct, I-C. Joseph W. Brink failed to carry a precinct and finished third in the totals in most of the 11 precincts.

Official totals announced by the board of elections were: Gordon, 686; Weller, 406; Brink, 236.

In the only other race Everett P. Stocklen, electrician, defeated William B. Cady, former mayor, 799 to 331 for the position of city treasurer. Stocklen won in every precinct.

The lone Republican candidate, Gladys Fausnaugh Wiggins, received 82 votes for treasurer. She will oppose Stocklen in the November election.

Write-ins were few. B. T. Hedges was written in for mayor on the Republican ticket in I-C, receiving four votes. Since this was the only precinct in which he received any votes there were not enough to put his name on the ticket this fall.

TRUMAN SCORES MANY POINTS AT CONFERENCE

President Reported To Have Won Several Concessions From British, Reds

DETAILS NOT ANNOUNCED

'Good Bit' Of Progress Said To Have Been Made At Latest Session

POTSDAM, Aug. 1—The big three conference approached an end today with the United States already having won a considerable number of concessions from Russia and Britain.

(A London Daily Express dispatch from Berlin speculated that the big three conference to be issued following the conference may announce that Russia considers herself at war with Japan.)

The nature of the American victories cannot be made public at this time, but President Truman was reported highly satisfied with the progress of his discussions with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee.

The three chiefs of state today held what has been described officially only as a "further meeting." It was likely to be the final meeting of the conference, although a possibility remained that another session will be scheduled tomorrow.

The communique to be issued on conclusion of the conference probably will state the allied position on the future of Europe with particular emphasis on Germany, but it is not expected to contain any reference to Japan.

This does not mean that the (Continued on Page Two)

CAPTAIN EDDIE GIVEN WELCOME BY HOME TOWN

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 1—Capt. Edward Rickenbacker, a little greyer but still flashing his famous smile, today plunged into the second half of his hectic homecoming celebration which ends tonight with the world premier of the motion picture "Captain Eddie."

A bevy of Hollywood stars, including Richard Conte, Lloyd Nolan and James Dunn, arrived here for the celebration from Chicago by train last night. Carole Landis, who originally was scheduled to arrive with them, was to fly here from New York today.

Rickenbacker and the movie stars were to be welcomed by Mayor James A. Rhodes in his office this morning, inspect the naval air facility at Port Columbus and then go to Lockbourne army air base to participate in the AAF's 38th birthday celebration.

The day will be climaxed with a huge parade through downtown Columbus late this afternoon followed by the premier at 8 p. m. A squadron of bombers from Lockbourne will fly overhead during the parade in tribute to the ace-of-aces of the first world war.

Famed 12th Army Group, Greatest American War Machine, Finishes Work

WIESEBADEN, Aug. 1—Gen. Omar N. Bradley's famed 12th Army group, which at one time numbered 1,233,000 soldiers to form the greatest war machine in American military history, has ceased to function.

Organized approximately a year ago, its operations stopped late last night.

It was formed back in the days when American troops in the Cotentin peninsula had cracked German defenses along the St. Lo-Perriers road and surged into central France.

In its year of battle, the 12th had 416,406 battle casualties, with 74,237 killed and 297,509 wounded. There were 44,660 others listed as missing or captured. But Bradley's troops captured 2,500,000 Germans and killed or wounded an estimated 500,000.

The 12th became operational on Aug. 1, 1944, with two armies, the First under Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, and the Third under Gen. George S. Patton Jr.

Hodges' troops swept through Paris, through Belgium, and then on into Germany. Patton's troops cleared central France and the West bank of the Rhine.

The German Seventh army, attempting to cut the Third Army's supply lines with a counterattack in the Mortain area, was destroyed when 12th Army troops closed with Field Marshal Sir B. L. Montgomery's British forces to create the Falaise "gap."

Perhaps the group's toughest hours came in December when the Germans counter-attacked in the Ardennes area, hoping to separate British and American forces. The Germans hoped to cut off Allied (Continued on Page Two)

GEN. ALEXANDER WILL SUCCEED EARL IN CANADA

LONDON, Aug. 1—King George VI has appointed Field Marshal Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander to succeed the Earl of Athlone as governor general of Canada.

It was understood that the date for Athlone's return to Great Britain and the installation of Alexander has not yet been set.

The earl's normal term was due to expire in June and he said then that he did not propose to extend his term for any length of time. It was expected that he will leave Canada by late summer.

The earl who is 71 is the king's uncle. He has been governor general since 1940.

Lady Margaret Alexander said her husband, who is now in Italy, would require several weeks to settle his affairs and thus it was uncertain when they would leave for Canada.

Alexander, at 52, is the youngest officer ever to hold field marshal rank in the British army. At 35 he commanded the Irish guards and at 45 he was the youngest major general in the British army.

He was allied deputy commander in North Africa in 1943 and named supreme Allied commander of the Mediterranean in November, 1944.

The three were listed as being Second Lieutenant John Griffith, Private First Class Clarence Boyse, and Warrant Officer (j. g.) Gale Hitchcock, all of Circleville.

Nimitz Communique Reveals Third Carriers Wreck 89 More Planes

American land-based planes and a submarine bombed and shelled Japan today, as the mighty Third fleet went under a security blackout for the second straight day.

Radio Tokyo reported that 20 American P-51 Mustangs bombed, rocketed, and machine-gunned airbases and transportation facilities in the Osaka-Kobe area southwest of Tokyo for 50 minutes beginning at 9 a. m. (Japanese time).

Another Japanese broadcast said an Allied submarine surfaced off the south coast of Hokkaido and boldly shelled Tomakomai for 30 minutes about 6 p. m. yesterday.

The broadcast said that damage was slight.

The third fleet has been silent since sending its destroyers into Suruga bay to shell the city of Shimizu just after midnight Monday.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz in today's only communique announced that the Third fleet's carrier planes had destroyed or damaged 89 more Japanese planes and eight more ships in the second half of their attack on central Honshu Monday.

"Swinging south after attacking the Tokyo area on Monday, American carrier planes sank two ships, damaged six, destroyed 56 planes on the ground and damaged 33, sweeping along a 90-mile stretch from Nagoya to the Maizuru naval base on the sea of Japan.

Since July 10 the Third fleet has destroyed or damaged 1,477 Japanese planes and 957 ships, including 109 warships.

Okinawa-based planes have added to the destruction. Army bomber and fighter-bombers on Monday sank six enemy ships and damaged 20 others—14 in Japan's home waters and in the straits between Japan and Korea.

ELLIOTT HITS AT CRITICS OF LATE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President, wants his critics to confine their attacks to him instead of spreading "pernicious lies" about his father, "a man who can't talk back."

Young Roosevelt lashed out at his enemies late yesterday in a statement in which he assumed full responsibility for his much-publicized business affairs, including several loans now being investigated by congress and the treasury.

He took cognizance of charges that his father had helped him negotiate the loans and described these as part of the "hate campaign" being conducted against the late President's memory by a small segment of the press.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt never promoted or assisted my personal business affairs," he said. "Any statement that he did so is a deliberate, infamous lie. I conducted my own business affairs. The responsibility for them was and still is mine and mine alone."

The statement was Roosevelt's first comment on the controversial loan operations. He said he was confident that the current treasury investigation of the loans would answer "the falsehoods, half-truths and sly implications of that small irresponsible section of the press which does not hesitate to violate the truth."

SENATORS FACE HEAVY PROGRAM

Solons Go Home With Much Legislation Awaiting Their Return To Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley planned to send the senate home for Summer recess today with a warning that it faces a heavy agenda of reconversion and postwar employment legislation when it comes back in October.

The house already has recessed until Oct. 8. The senate was ready to put aside its work until the same time after a more or less routine session today.

Barkley's fall program is expected to stress the so-called "human side" of reconversion. It will include proposals for emergency unemployment compensation, broadening the social security program and raising of minimum wage standards.

In preparing it, Barkley drew upon recommendations made by the late President Roosevelt and by President Truman but which have not yet been acted upon by congress.

He also was offered the suggestions developed by a group of 17 Democratic senators at a three-hour luncheon meeting yesterday. Their list included the Wagner-Murray full employment bill, additional veterans benefits and plans for public works programs to take up any slack in private employment in the postwar period.

Barkley was not invited to yes- (Continued on Page Two)

New Jet-Propelled Plane Unveiled By U. S. A. F. At Wright Field

DAYTON, Aug. 1—The U. S. Army Air Forces today took the wraps off its production model of the P-80 Shooting Star—new jet-propelled fighter plane which has been clocked at speeds of more than 550 miles an hour.

The Shooting Star received its first public demonstration at Wright Field here in connection with the Air Technical Service Command's "open house" celebration of the 38th anniversary of the Army Air Forces.

Originally designed to meet the challenge of the German Messerschmitt 262 and Arado 234, the Shooting Star now undoubtedly will see extensive service against the Japanese who have failed to develop any notable jet planes, the ATSC said.

MAYOR BEN GORDON WINS IN PRIMARY

Mayor Ben H. Gordon Wednesday was assured of another term as head of the Circleville official family.

Folting 24 more votes than the other two candidates together, Gordon was nominated on the Democratic ticket at the city primary Tuesday.

Ernie W. Weiler, who finished second in the race, carried only his own precinct, I-C. Joseph W. Brink failed to carry a precinct and finished third in the totals in most of the 11 precincts.

Official totals announced by the board of elections were: Gordon, 686; Weiler, 406; Brink, 256.

In the only other race Everett P. Stocklen, electrician, defeated William B. Cady, former mayor, 799 to 331 for the position of city treasurer. Stocklen won in every precinct.

The lone Republican candidate, Gladys Fausnaugh Wiggins, received 82 votes for treasurer. She will oppose Stocklen in the November election.

Write-ins were few. B. T. Hedges was written in for mayor on the Republican ticket in I-C, receiving four votes. Since this was the only precinct in which he received any votes there were not enough to put his name on the ticket this fall.

LONDON, Aug. 1—King George VI has appointed Field Marshal Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander to succeed the Earl of Athlone as governor general of Canada.

It was understood that the date for Athlone's return to Great Britain and the installation of Alexander has not yet been set.

The Earl's normal term was due to expire in June and he said that he did not propose to extend his term for any length of time. It was expected that he will leave Canada by late summer.

The Earl who is 71 is the king's uncle. He has been governor general since 1940.

Lady Margaret Alexander said her husband, who is now in Italy, would require several weeks to settle his affairs and thus it was uncertain when they would leave for Canada.

Alexander, at 52, is the youngest officer ever to hold field marshal rank in the British army. At 35 he commanded the Irish guards and at 45 he was the youngest major general in the British army.

He was allied deputy commander in North Africa in 1943 and named supreme Allied commander of the Mediterranean in November, 1944.

SENATORS FACE HEAVY PROGRAM

Solons Go Home With Much Legislation Awaiting Their Return To Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley planned to send the senate home for Summer recess today with a warning that it faces a heavy agenda of reconversion and postwar employment legislation when it comes back in October.

The house already has recessed until Oct. 8. The senate was ready to put aside its work until the same time after a more or less routine session today.

Barkley's fall program is expected to stress the so-called "human side" of reconversion. It will include proposals for emergency unemployment compensation, broadening the social security program and raising of minimum wage standards.

In preparing it, Barkley drew upon recommendations made by the late President Roosevelt and by President Truman but which have not yet been acted upon by congress.

He also was offered the suggestions developed by a group of 17 Democratic senators at a three-hour luncheon meeting yesterday. Their list included the Wagner-Murray full employment bill, additional veterans benefits and plans for public works programs to take up any slack in private employment in the postwar period.

Barkley was not invited to yes- (Continued on Page Two)

Three Circleville men will be aboard the Queen Mary when she docks in New York Thursday, bringing both officers and enlisted men from the European theater of war. They will be among more than 100 central Ohio men returning to the United States aboard the English controlled luxury liner.

The three were listed as being Second Lieutenant John Griffith, Private First Class Clarence Boy- sel, and Warrant Officer (j. g.) Gale Hitchcock, all of Circleville.

Nimitz Communique Reveals Third Carriers Wreck 89 More Planes

By United Press
American land-based planes and a submarine bombed and shelled Japan today, as the mighty Third fleet went under a security blackout for the second straight day.

Radio Tokyo reported that 20 American P-51 Mustangs bombed, rocketed, and machine-gunned airbases and transportation facilities in the Osaka-Kobe area southwest of Tokyo for 50 minutes beginning at 9 a. m. (Japanese time).

Another Japanese broadcast said an Allied submarine surfaced off the south coast of Hokkaido and boldly shelled Tomakomai for 30 minutes about 6 p. m. yesterday.

The broadcast said that damage was slight.

Silent Since Monday
The third fleet has been silent since sending its destroyers into Suruga bay to shell the city of Shimizu just after midnight Monday.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz in today's only communique announced that the Third fleet's carrier planes had destroyed or damaged 89 more Japanese planes and eight more ships in the second half of their attack on central Honshu Monday.

"Swinging south after attacking the Tokyo area on Monday, American carrier planes sank two ships, damaged six, destroyed 56 planes on the ground and damaged 33, sweeping along a 90-mile stretch from Nagoya to the Maizuru naval base on the sea of Japan.

1,477 Planes Wrecked
Since July 10 the Third fleet has destroyed or damaged 1,477 Japanese planes and 957 ships, including 109 warships.

Okinawa-based planes have added to the destruction. Army bomber and fighter-bombers on Monday sank six enemy ships and damaged 20 others—14 in Japan's home waters and in the straits between Japan and Korea.

ELLIOTT HITS AT CRITICS OF LATE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President, wants his critics to confine their attacks to him instead of spreading "pernicious lies" about his father, "a man who can't talk back."

Young Roosevelt lashed out at his enemies late yesterday in a statement in which he assumed full responsibility for his much-publicized business affairs, including several loans now being investigated by congress and the treasury.

He took cognizance of charges that his father had helped him negotiate the loans and described these as part of the "hate campaign" being conducted against the late President's memory by a small segment of the press.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt never promoted or assisted my personal business affairs," he said. "Any statement that he did so is a deliberate, infamous lie. I conducted my own business affairs. The responsibility for them was and still is mine and mine alone."

The statement was Roosevelt's first comment on the controversial loan operations. He said he was confident that the current treasury investigation of the loans would answer "the falsehoods, half-truths and sly implications of that small irresponsible section of the press which does not hesitate to violate the truth."

A Japanese communique claimed that Japanese planes and anti-aircraft

GALLERY SEES NO SALARY WAR

Pro Football Stars Waiting
For Higher Pay Doomed
To Disappointment

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—Professional football stars licking their chops in anticipation of skyrocketing salaries in post-war competition between rival leagues are doomed for inevitable frustration,
Vice-President Tom Gallery of the Brooklyn Tigers predicted today.

"Cut-throat bidding for players, with resultant team-jumping, may occur for a while but it's doomed for an early demise," he said. "The law of economics will take care of that."

Gallery's forecast was in answer to speculation that inauguration of the proposed All-America league—in competition with the 19-year-old National League—might spark a disastrous "playerwar" such as ruined the Federal league in baseball at the turn of the century.

"Such a 'player-war' is likely when the All-America league goes into operation," Gallery admitted,
"but it will not continue long enough to do serious damage."

"In the first place, the men behind the new pro football circuit are a sagacious, seasoned lot who know exactly what they're doing.
Then, too, they have the precedent
of the Federal league before them, when this organization went broke trying to take stars from the American and National baseball leagues; the interlopers ran out of money, which is a natural conclusion in cut-throat bidding."

"The All-American league won't make that mistake. Salaries are governed by overhead and gate receipts; you can seat only so many spectators, at so much per seat, in any stadium in the country, and your salaries are part of that overhead."

Pro football salaries, Gallery pointed out, are scarcely coolie wages, even in comparison with professional baseball.

"I understand that the proposed
All-America league has set a ceiling of $7,500, and that's about what the National league average is, some stars drawing as high as $15,000. But the point is, that's only for about three months, and a 10-game schedule, whereas the baseball player—whose average salary isn't any higher—signs for a 154-game schedule. I don't see where the gragger has any apologies to make."

Baseball's practice of paying fancy bonuses may have its counterpart in post-war football, Gallery admitted.

"There's nothing in the National league by-laws against paying a bonus, but it's a costly practice that would have to be absorbed from limited gate receipts, and my guess is that it wouldn't be a paying practice. Keep in mind that baseball plays a 154-game schedule, and pro-football 10 games, and there's the reason in a nutshell."

END OF MEAT SHORTAGE NOT IN SIGHT

Here's How Pork, Beef Situation Looks to Livestock Men

THE WAY IT IS—Empty pens at the National Stock Yards tell why your butcher's cabinets are bare today.

By HARRY BARNES

Central Press Correspondent

NATIONAL CITY, Ill. — Mrs.
Housewife who read the heartening news that there will be 5 per cent more meat during the coming months is due for a sad awakening when it actually comes to putting more meat on the family dinner table.

Such is the opinion of leading livestock brokers and commission men at this home of one of the country's leading meat markets,
the National Stock Yards.

The meat shortage, they say, is here to stay, at least for another four or five months, and nothing the government can say about bigger allowances to John Q. Public is going to make any difference.

There is only one thing that can put more meat on the table, according to these august opinions, and that is "more meat." Right at the moment, there seems to be little prospect of increased supplies so that Mrs. Housewife can get a bigger and better roast for Sunday dinner.

Why Outlook Is Bad

Numerous factors enter into the predictions of livestock men that the meat shortage is not yet near an end.

The first and foremost of these is the shortage of hog receipts that has been building up until marketing this year is far below the level necessary even to maintain military requirements.

The shortage in hog receipts consequently creates a lack of supplies that must be taken up, wherever possible, by other meats.

While cattle runs in the past have been at a fairly high level,
the stock has been of light weight and fails to offset the shortage of pork and pork products, thus creating a two-way shortage.

This year's outlook for pork and hog volume is discouraging. The department of agriculture reported not so long ago that a spring and fall pig crop of 87,000,000 head is indicated, a number only slightly larger than last year's crop of 86,753,000 head.

What is more significant is the fact that this indicated crop is 7,500,000 head less than the number required to meet actual demand.

The potential pork and lard tonnage from the spring crop shows a reduction of approximately 700-000,000 pounds from the tonnage of the spring crop in 1944, and a cut of more than 4,000,000,000 pounds from the spring crop of 1943. That is one of the reasons

PUBLIC MEMBERS FAVOR REVISION OF WLB POLICY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—Public members, who usually hold the balance of power on the War Labor Board, were reported ready today to recommend discard of the wartime little steel wage formula as far as voluntary wage increases are concerned.

It was reported the public members of the board have rejected a request of industry members that they conduct public hearings before recommending liberalization of the government's wage policy.

They have, however, agreed to hold up their report to Economic Stabilizer William H. Davis until WLB labor and industry groups are ready to submit their opinions, it was said. Davis was understood to have asked for recommendations on the question in order to have them ready for President Truman when he returns from Potsdam.

The little steel formula limits wartime wage increases to 15 percent of January 1, 1942 levels. The public members would revoke this limitation as regards voluntary wage increases with the single stipulation that no increase in consumer prices result.

DISCOURAGING NO DOUBT

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A Japanese
Domei dispatch said that Premier Kantaro Suzuki visited the imperial palace today and reported to the emperor on the general political situation.

There is less meat today.

R. C. Pollock, general manager of the National Live Stock and Meat board, said recently that the total estimates of 1945 meat production approximate 22,400,000,000 pounds, or 2,125,000,000 pounds less than in 1944. And you know how short meat was last year.

Here again, the reduced 1945
figure is due to a drop in hog population and consequently in production of pork and pork products.

There was some hope that the 50 cent subsidy to cattle feeders would increase the over-all supply of meat, but Prairie Farmer in a recent survey polled a group of corn belt feeders on the question and received a discouraging answer.

Only 18 per cent of those answering thought an increase would be forthcoming; 38 per cent answered "perhaps, a little," but 44 per cent said no.

Only five out of every hundred cattle feeders polled said they definitely would put more cattle into the feed lot as a result of the direct subsidy of 50 cents a hundred for cattle weighing more than 800 pounds and bringing at least $14.25 per 100 pounds.

A shortage of manpower, feed costs and dissatisfaction of farmers over price controls are mainly stock production, particularly hogs, according to Ed Smith of the Producers Livestock commission association here.

Bombing Of Jap Cities To Continue Despite Danger To Prisoners

pan, the prospects of what they will find are not pleasant. It is fully expected that a lot of Americans will have been killed or wounded by their own bombers.

It was indicated that the department has abandoned hope that the enemy will desist. The first U. S.
protest was made in September, 1944. With subsequent reports that more and more camps were being moved near military objectives, protests became "increasingly frequent." Japanese replies continued "evasive."

In March of this year, the United States told Japan that it was forced to conclude that the policy was deliberate. In May, it warned that "no Japanese individual would escape accountability"—a clear statement that those responsible would be included on the U. S. war criminals list.

Despite the protests, the department said, the Tokyo radio broadcast defiantly the tragedy of U. S. bombers hitting an American prison camp at Kawasaki last Thursday, "and that some casualties, mostly American, resulted."

TRUMAN SCORES MANY POINTS AT CONFERENCE

President Reported To Have
Won Several Concessions
From British, Reds

Pacific war was not discussed by the three leaders. President Truman insisted upon its inclusion in the agenda.

While both the Americans and the British respected Russia's neutrality in the Pacific conflict, they firmly stated their belief that the future of the world could not be discussed without some reference to Japan.

President Truman devoted the early portion of the conference to feeling out his two experienced contemporaries. Then, with the assurance of the almost unanimous support of the U. S. senate, he drove bargains which otherwise might have been hard.

It was likely that he in turn made some concessions to British and Russian viewpoints.

Mr. Truman, Stalin and Attlee were reported officially to have made a "good bit" of progress at their meeting yesterday, the first since the Soviet generalissimo was taken ill Sunday.

Best available information was that Stalin had suffered only a mild upset in the nature of a cold or an attack of indigestion, but censorship at first prevented disclosure of the reason for the interruption in the conference.

Immediately after adjournment of the conference, Mr. Truman will fly to Plymouth, England, to meet King George VI and Queen
Elizabeth, then board the cruiser Augusta for a fast trip back to the United States.

(London sources close to the royal family said it was likely that only King George would go to Plymouth to meet the President.
Queen Elizabeth apparently will remain in London.)

(A BBC broadcast reported by NBC said the Augusta already has arrived at Plymouth to await Mr.
Truman.)

the Third army, busily attacking in the Saar, wheeled north and cracked the Germans' southern flank.

The Germans fell back with tremendous losses from which they never recovered and Bradley correctly predicted that the battle of the bulge had "shortened the war."

Next the Ninth army pressed on toward Dusseldorf. The First army, covering the Ninth's right flank, captured Cologne and then grabbed a bridgehead across the Rhine at Remagen. The Third
Army also swept to the Rhine, spearheaded by the famous Fourth armored division, and trapped more than 300,000 German troops.

The Ninth army crossed the Rhine at Wesel, the First army penetrated deeper into German defenses, and the Third army captured Darmstadt, about 30 miles south of Frankfurt.

The Ninth and First together
then squeezed off the Ruhr, capturing 350,000 Germans—with the aid of the 15th army which had become operational.

Third and newly-acquired Seventh army troops pushed through Bavaria and into Czechoslovakia.
The Germans capitulated soon after the First army met the Russians at Torgau.

The war ended with 12th army troops holding 55,000 square miles of Germany—almost a third of the

CRUDE RUBBER MOVING INTO UNITED STATES

MANILA, Aug. 1—Crude rubber from the Philippines has begun moving to the United States and production will be increased steadily, it was revealed today.

Officials of the foreign economic administration and the affiliated rubber development corporation reported that 58 tons of crude rubber have just been shipped to America. Earlier, 800,000 pounds of salvaged Japanese rubber was shipped.

The rubber, and all subsequent shipments, will be sold to private industry in the United States.

James S. Baker, of Washington, D. C., deputy director of the Philippines mission, said the shipments are "just a drop in a bucket considering the United States' re-rubber requirements but nevertheless they're most welcome. Besides the shipments will be increased steadily."

Philippine plantations produced
1,000 metric tons annually before the war and production within the next year is expected to exceed that figure greatly.

today's meeting and it caused some misunderstanding.

The session was called by Sens.
Claude Pepper, D., Fla., and Harley M. Kilgore, D., W. Va., two of the senate's most active new dealers.

Pepper said more than 30 senators were invited but that Barkley was left out to keep from embarrassing him. He felt that perhaps the administration leader wouldn't want to get committed to the program he and Kilgore wanted to outline.

Pepper and Kilgore presented the meeting with a long statement of legislative proposals. It ran 2300 words, including about 700 words of quotes from the late President Roosevelt. In some cases they merely recommended
"areas of proposed action." In others they mentioned specific bills.

The two new dealers had hoped to get their list endorsed by other senators and then work up a public demand that would force passage of the legislation. But they ran into trouble in their efforts to list specific bills.

HUGE EXPENSES REVEALED IN CROWLEY REPORT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 — Not counting $39,000,000,000 in lend-lease aid to Allied nations, the U. S. government paid out $11-47,000,000 for raw materials, armed forces pay, foreign military bases and relief to distressed peoples during the period from July 1, 1940, to March 31, 1945.

The highlights of Uncle Sam's dealings abroad were revealed today in a summary by Foreign Economic Administrator Leo T. Crowley.

Lend-lease figures, including $5-600,000,000 that the U. S. has received from Allied nations, have already been made public.

Over half of the $11,437,000,000 spent abroad during the four and three-quarters year period went for supplies and materials destined for war and civilian production on the home front, Crowley said. The government got $3,257,000,000 back from the sale of materials to private manufacturers. Copper, sugar, rubber, tin and aluminum,
for instance, were among the scarce items which the U. S. had to buy abroad.

These expenditures also included over $4,000,000,000 in pay to U. S. personnel overseas, mostly members of the armed forces; and $1,800,000,000 for the reconstruction and maintenance of ground,
air and naval bases for military operations, $585,000,000 in loans outstanding on March 31 and $373,000,000 for relief.

The Shooting Star also is equip-

high altitude flight and six .50-cal-mounted at the bottom of the slender nose so the pilot won't be bothered by gunfire flashes.

It also carries a gun camera and can be equipped with a "photographic nose" for high speed photo reconnaissance work. The wings are fitted with special shackles to permit it to carry bombs or extra fuel tanks.

The first experimental P-80 was delivered to an experimental ATSC flight test base exactly 143 days after the Army first requested General Electric and Lockheed to build a combat airplane around a jet engine, the ATSC said.

In February, 1944, Capt. Wallace Lien, Army test pilot, began the Army's test schedule and immediately broke all existing U. S.
speed records.

The only real "bug" in the P-80, ATSC said, was the tendency of turbine and compressor wheels to tear themselves apart from sheer centrifugal force. It finally was licked by developing special alloys capable of withstanding intense speed.

REPARATIONS TO BE DIFFERENT FROM LAST WAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—The German reparations policy being formulated at Potsdam will bear little if any resemblance to the unsuccessful one imposed on Germany after World War I, well informed officials said today.

In the first place, it has long been agreed by the major Allies that reparations this time shall be "in kind" and not in money. That policy already has been followed in Finland, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

The emphasis after World war
I was on money. The overwhelming desire then was to make her
"pay" the cost of the war.

The emphasis this time will be on goods, materials and equipment which Germany now possesses or can produce without rejuvenating
her war or heavy industries.

The Allies are a lot more interested in obtaining from Germany things to reconstruct their own devastated countries than in an impressive monetary figure which experience has shown can not be collected.

To Disappointment

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—Professional football stars licking their chops in anticipation of skyrocketing salaries in post-war competition between rival leagues are doomed for inevitable frustration, Vice-President Tom Gallery of the Brooklyn Tigers predicted today.

"Cut-throat bidding for players, with resultant team-jumping, may occur for a while but it's doomed for an early demise," he said. "The law of economics will take care of that."

Gallery's forecast was in answer to speculation that inauguration of the proposed All-America league—in competition with the 19-year-old National League—might spark a disastrous "player-war" such as ruined the Federal league in baseball at the turn of the century.

"Such a 'player-war' is likely when the All-America league goes into operation," Gallery admitted, "but it will not continue long enough to do serious damage."

"In the first place, the men behind the new pro football circuit are a sagacious, seasoned lot who know exactly what they're doing. Then, too, they have the precedent of the Federal league before them, when this organization went broke trying to take stars from the American and National baseball leagues; the interlopers ran out of money, which is a natural conclusion in cut-throat bidding."

"The All-America league won't make that mistake. Salaries are governed by overhead and gate receipts; you can seat only so many spectators, at so much per seat, and your salaries are part of that overhead."

Pro football salaries, Gallery pointed out, are scarcely coolie wages, even in comparison with professional baseball.

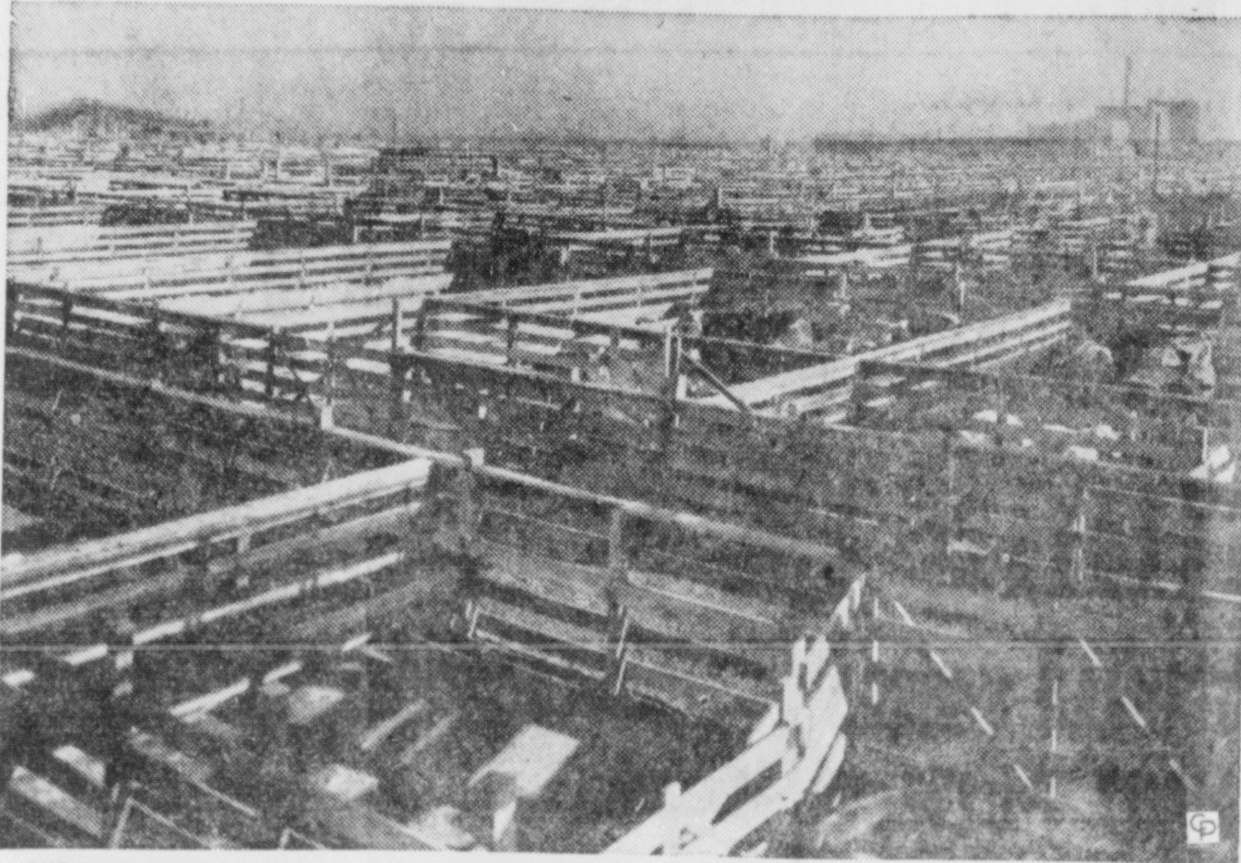

"I understand that the proposed All-America league has set a ceiling of $7,500, and that's about what the National league average is, some stars drawing as high as $15,000. But the point is, that's only for about three months, and a 10-game schedule, whereas the baseball player—whose average salary isn't any higher—signs for a 154-game schedule. I don't see where the griddle has any apologies to make."

Baseball's practice of paying fancy bonuses may have its counterpart in post-war football, Gallery admitted.

"There's nothing in the National league by-laws against paying a bonus, but it's a costly practice that would have to be absorbed from limited gate receipts, and my guess is that it wouldn't be a paying practice. Keep in mind that baseball plays a 154-game schedule, and pro-football 10 games, and there's the reason in a nutshell."

END OF MEAT SHORTAGE NOT IN SIGHT

Here's How Pork, Beef Situation Looks to Livestock Men

THE WAY IT IS—Empty pens at the National Stock Yards tell why your butcher's cabinets are bare today.

By HARRY BARNES
Central Press Correspondent
NATIONAL CITY, Ill. — Mrs. Housewife who reads the heartening news that there will be 5 per cent more meat during the coming months is due for a sad awakening when it actually comes to putting more meat on the family dinner table.

Such is the opinion of leading livestock brokers and commission men at this home of one of the country's leading meat markets, the National Stock Yards.

The meat shortage, they say, is here to stay, at least for another four or five months, and nothing the government can say about bigger allowances to John Q. Public is going to make any difference.

There is only one thing that can put more meat on the table, according to these august opinions, and that is "more meat." Right at the moment, there seems to be little prospect of increased supply so that Mrs. Housewife can get a bigger and better roast for Sunday dinner.

Why Outlook Is Bad
Numerous factors enter into the predictions of livestock men that the meat shortage is not yet near an end.

The first and foremost of these is the shortage of hog receipts that has been building up until marketing this year is far below the level necessary even to maintain military requirements.

The shortage in hog receipts consequently creates a lack of supplies that must be taken up, wherever possible, by other meats.

While cattle runs in the past have been at a fairly high level, the stock has been of light weight and fails to offset the shortage of pork and pork products, thus creating a two-way shortage.

This year's outlook for pork and hog volume is discouraging. The department of agriculture reported not so long ago that a spring and fall pig crop of 87,000,000 head is indicated, a number only slightly larger than last year's crop of 86,753,000 head.

What is more significant is the fact that this indicated crop is 7,500,000 head less than the number required to meet actual demand.

The potential pork and lard tonnage from the spring crop shows a reduction of approximately 700,000,000 pounds from the tonnage of the spring crop in 1944, and a cut of more than 4,000,000,000 pounds from the spring crop of 1943. That is one of the reasons

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—Public members, who usually hold the balance of power on the War Labor Board, were reported ready today to recommend discard of the wartime little steel wage formula as far as voluntary wage increases are concerned.

It was reported the public members of the board have rejected a request of industry members that they conduct public hearings before recommending liberalization of the government's wage policy.

They have, however, agreed to hold up their report to Economic Stabilizer William H. Davis until WLB labor and industry groups are ready to submit their opinions, it was said. Davis was understood to have asked for recommendations on the question in order to have them ready for President Truman when he returns from Potsdam.

The little steel formula limits wartime wage increases to 15 per cent of January 1, 1942 levels. The public members would revoke this limitation as regards voluntary wage increases with the single stipulation that no increase in consumer prices result.

TRUMAN SCORES MANY POINTS AT CONFERENCE

President Reported To Have
Won Several Concessions

Pacific war was not discussed by the three leaders. President Truman insisted upon its inclusion in the agenda.

While both the Americans and the British respected Russia's neutrality in the Pacific conflict, they firmly stated their belief that the future of the world could not be discussed without some reference to Japan.

President Truman devoted the early portion of the conference to feeling out his two experienced contemporaries. Then, with the assurance of the almost unanimous support of the U. S. senate, he drove bargains which otherwise might have been hard.

It was likely that he in turn made some concessions to British and Russian viewpoints.

Mr. Truman, Stalin and Attlee were reported officially to have made a "good bit" of progress at their meeting yesterday, the first since the Soviet generalissimo was taken ill Sunday.

Best available information was that Stalin had suffered only a mild upset in the nature of a cold or an attack of indigestion, but censorship at first prevented disclosure of the reason for the interruption in the conference.

Immediately after adjournment of the conference, Mr. Truman will fly to Plymouth, England, to meet King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, then board the cruiser Augusta for a fast trip back to the United States.

(London sources close to the royal family said it was likely that only King George would go to Plymouth to meet the President. Queen Elizabeth apparently will remain in London.)

(A BBC broadcast reported by NBC said the Augusta already has arrived at Plymouth to await Mr. Truman.)

supplies by taking Liege and Antwerp.

The First and Ninth armies contained the German assault while the Third army, busily attacking in the Saar, wheeled north and cracked the Germans' southern flank.

The Germans fell back with tremendous losses from which they never recovered and Bradley correctly predicted that the battle of the bulge had "shortened the war."

Next the Ninth army pressed on toward Dusseldorf. The First army, covering the Ninth's right flank, captured Cologne and then grabbed a bridgehead across the Rhine at Remagen. The Third Army also swept to the Rhine, spearheaded by the famous Fourth armored division, and trapped more than 300,000 German troops.

The Ninth army crossed the Rhine at Wessel, the First army penetrated deeper into German defenses, and the Third army captured Darmstadt, about 30 miles south of Frankfurt.

The Ninth and First together then squeezed off the Ruhr, capturing 350,000 Germans—with the aid of the 15th army which had become operational.

Third and newly-acquired Seventh army troops pushed through Bavaria and into Czechoslovakia. The Germans capitulated soon after the first army met the Russians at Torgau.

The war ended with 12th army troops holding 55,000 square miles of Germany—almost a third of the greater Reich.

CRUDE RUBBER MOVING INTO UNITED STATES

MANILA, Aug. 1—Crude rubber from the Philippines has begun moving to the United States and production will be increased steadily, it was revealed today.

Officials of the foreign economic administration and the affiliated rubber development corporation reported that 58 tons of crude rubber have just been shipped to America. Earlier, 800,000 pounds of salvaged Japanese rubber was shipped.

The rubber, and all subsequent shipments, will be sold to private industry in the United States. James S. Baker, of Washington, D. C., deputy director of the Philippines mission, said the shipments are "just a drop in a bucket considering the United States' rubber requirements but nevertheless they're most welcome. Besides the shipments will be increased steadily."

Philippine plantations produced 1,000 metric tons annually before the war and production within the next year is expected to exceed that figure greatly.

Cotton Production
MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Despite manpower shortage and lack of new machinery, a total of 9,500,000,000 yards of cotton fabrics was produced in the United States last year, according to the National Cotton Council, compared with 11,300,000,000 yards produced during 1942.

nation of the propeller, carburetor and engine controls of the conventional fighter plane simplifies the manufacture and maintenance of the P-80. The engine can be completely removed and replaced in 20 minutes.

The Shooting Star also is equipped with a pressurized cabin for high altitude flight and six .50-caliber machine guns. The guns are mounted at the bottom of the slender nose so the pilot won't be bothered by gunfire flashes.

It also carries a gun camera and can be equipped with a "photographic nose" for high speed photo reconnaissance work. The wings are fitted with special shackles to permit it to carry bombs or extra fuel tanks.

The first experimental P-80 was delivered to an experimental ATSC flight test base exactly 143 days after the Army first requested General Electric and Lockheed to build a combat airplane around a jet engine, the ATSC said.

In February, 1944, Capt. Wallace Llen, Army test pilot, began the Army's test schedule and immediately broke all existing U. S. speed records.

The only real "bug" in the P-80, ATSC said, was the tendency of turbine and compressor wheels to tear themselves apart from sheer centrifugal force. It finally was licked by developing special alloys capable of withstanding intense speed.

REPARATIONS TO BE DIFFERENT FROM LAST WAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—The German reparations policy being formulated at Potsdam will bear little if any resemblance to the unsuccessful one imposed on Germany after World War I, well informed officials said today.

In the first place, it has long been agreed by the major Allies that reparations this time shall be "in kind" and not in money. That policy already has been followed in Finland, Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

The emphasis after World War I was on money. The overwhelming desire then was to make her "pay" the cost of the war.

The emphasis this time will be on goods, materials and equipment which Germany now possesses or can produce without rejuvenating her war or heavy industries.

The Allies are a lot more interested in obtaining from Germany things to reconstruct their own devastated countries than in an impressive monetary figure which experience has shown can not be collected.

PREDICT THREE YEAR BOOM IN AMERICAN EXPORTS

POSTWAR FOREIGN TRADE is expected to reach an all time high. The record to date was set in 1920, when the export total was about $8,500,000,000. Some recent surveys indicate that by 1947 our exports will climb almost to nine billions. Estimated figures for the next three years, both in imports and exports are shown in the above chart. At the right of the chart the "dollar balance," which takes into account the difference between export and import totals, is expected to be taken care of by investments abroad, U. S. loans and actual dollar spending by foreigners. The World Monetary Fund and the World Bank are two sources from which foreign lands may be expected to get both private loans and cash to keep their currencies steady. The Export-Import Bank can perform a similar loan service for U. S. investors. Greatest demand is expected to be for transportation equipment, building materials, industrial machines and so forth. INTIMATE SIDE SUICIDE PILOTS GIVEN BY JAPS

WITH THE 14TH CORPS ON NORTHERN LUZON, Aug. 1—A captured Japanese war correspondent gave the United Press today what is probably the first intimate picture of a Kamikaze suicide pilot.

The correspondent, Shizuo Sugiura of the Tokyo Asahi News, said he had known many of these pilots. He said they were prepared to go on missions with only 30 flying hours after receiving their diplomas from flying school. They were mostly non-coms, and a few lieutenants.

Sugiura said the youths were placed in special groups to await assignments. Just before the suicide missions, dapper Lt. Gen. Kenji Tominaga, chief of the Japanese 4th Air Army, would visit them.

Tominaga would say, "All right now, go out there and get those ships—die for your country!" the correspondent said.

Then an observation plane would breeze along with the boys just to see if they lost their nerve.

Tominaga generally gave each pilot a stiff jolt of whisky before the unlucky pilot shoved off.

After each mission—if it was successful—the pilot was promoted posthumously.

PREDICT THREE YEAR BOOM IN AMERICAN EXPORTS

POSTWAR FOREIGN TRADE is expected to reach an all time high. The record to date was set in 1920, when the export total was about $8,500,000,000. Some recent surveys indicate that by 1947 our exports will climb almost to nine billions. Estimated figures for the next three years, both in imports and exports are shown in the above chart. At the right of the chart the "dollar balance," which takes into account the difference between export and import totals, is expected to be taken care of by investments abroad, U. S. loans and actual dollar spending by foreigners. The World Monetary Fund and the World Bank are two sources from which foreign lands may be expected to get both private loans and cash to keep their currencies steady. The Export-Import Bank can perform a similar loan service for U. S. investors. Greatest demand is expected to be for transportation equipment, building materials, industrial machines and so forth.

INTIMATE SIDE SUICIDE PILOTS GIVEN BY JAPS

WITH THE 14TH CORPS ON NORTHERN LUZON, Aug. 1-A captured Japanese war correspondent gave the United Press today what is probably the first intimate picture of a Kamikaze suicide pilot.

The correspondent, Shizuo Sugura of the Tokyo Asahi News, said he had known many of these pilots. He said they were prepared to go on missions with only 30 flying hours after receiving their diplomas from flying school. They were mostly non-coms, and a few lieutenants.

Sugura said the youths were placed in special groups to await assignments.

Just before the suicide missions, dapper Lt. Gen. Kenji Tomimaga, chief of the Japanese 4th Air Army, would visit them.

Tomimaga would say, "All right now, go out there and get those ships—die for your country!" the correspondent said.

Then an observation plane would breeze along with the boys just to see if they lost their nerve.

Tomimaga generally gave each pilot a stiff jolt of whisky before the unlucky pilot shoved off.

After each mission—if it was successful—the pilot was promoted posthumously.

DESTRUCTION

IN any former war it would have been rather absurd for one combatant to demand the other's surrender with the threat of "prompt and utter destruction" if it refused. Yet the art of modern warfare, with all the means at its command, has probably arrived now at a degree of offensive power which makes such a threat realistic. The American forces are in command of means so much greater than any possessed in former wars, and so much superior to anything the Japanese possess, that such an apparently bombastic announcement may well be taken literally.

In this terrific threat itself there may be hope for the future. When the art of warfare—which is the art of killing enemies—reaches such a degree of effectiveness, there are only two alternatives. There can be war, or civilization—but not both on the same planet. The Japanese, in their present attitude, seem to prefer war.

GUARANTEED INCOMES

THERE is natural approval of a search started at Washington for some practical way to guarantee a reasonable income to manual workers. It may be assumed that nearly everybody is in favor of such procedure.

But isn't this effort somewhat one-sided? Business men may be no less important than manual workers in the general economic scheme. Yet they are generally dependent altogether on their own resources, left to sink or swim. As a class they probably work as hard with their heads, and for longer hours, than the people they employ.

They do have a larger opportunity than the manual workers, in the form of profit if they are clever or lucky. They also enjoy a sort of prestige as brain-workers. But although they are necessary in the general scheme there is usually nobody to save them when they have hard luck or sink under the load. It is conceivable that, sooner or later, our economic system will find it wise to do more for them than it has thought necessary heretofore. Especially for the "small business men."

SLOW-COMING WISDOM

"SCIENCE moves—but slowly, slowly," creeping on from point to point," wrote Tennyson at the beginning of our modern era. But now science is moving with giant strides, at a rate that the poet never dreamed of. This progress in technology, unfortunately, has not been matched by an equal progress in the realm of human nature. "Knowledge comes, but Wisdom lingers." We have a great deal more "knowledge", or information, than past generations had; but we often fail to use it wisely. And we also tend to forget that it's the mind and soul of man that count, rather than the mere mastery of material things.

Swearing-In Ceremonies Now Order of Day in Washington Treasury Secretary Vinson Popular With Capital Folk

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Swearing-in are all the rage in the capital this mid-summer. Time was, several months ago, when swearings-in were more popular. So many first-class people are the heroes of the swearings-in of the moment. If you aren't a guest at an occasion of this sort you simply don't know your Washington.

When our old friend Fred Vinson took the oath of office as secretary of the treasury hundreds of sincere well-wishers and terribly important people jammed the ways and means committee room in the old House office building. You might have thought you were at a gala pre-war party. Especially when you saw the chauffeurs standing on one foot in the Capitol neighborhood waiting for their passengers to emerge from the ceremony.

Those people who came so early, on a gray morning, to applaud Vinson felt somewhat as I did. Here was a man you could like—without a struggle. Often in Washington you have to like successful people, simply because they are successful. This is one of the reasons life here is sometimes exhausting. But Fred Vinson—well, here was a man you could understand. He was a big, homely, intelligent, honest guy. If anybody could keep a dollar bill worth the taxes you had to pay for owning one of the

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY

By JACK GAVEN
(Subbing for Mallon)

NEW YORK, August 1—This may cause a trouble but Peter Donald swears it's a fact and is prepared to duck. Women—married women, that is—of the Middle West have a penchant for sending bawdy jokes via mail.

Donald knows because he gets them as the gagmaster of the radio show "Can You Top This?" which involves the use of selected jokes contributed by the public at large and the attempts of expert joke-smiths to top them.

The handsome red-haired comedian has no explanation for the tendency of mid-west matrons to shower him with what once was called smoking car humor. Some of the "blue" material even comes to him on postcards, all of it goes into the discard which the program people call the "F. F."—filthy file.

"Most of the women who send in that stuff write that they know I can't use it the way it is but that they believe I can 'clean it up' with one of my dialects," Donald said.

Donald gets an average of about 1,500 jokes in the mail each week because there is a monetary reward for those that are used or each broadcast.

"And it hustles me to get half a dozen useable jokes out of each batch," Donald said. "New jokes? I don't know. Once in a long while I think I've got one and then somebody comes along and tells me its counterpart which went the rounds 50 or 100 years ago."

Donald's voice mimicry has stood him in on the program, is an expert at dialect and he has what he calls his own "stock company" of dialect characters to which he assigns all of the stories. So by the time he gets through working over a gag it may develop from a few lines into quite a production.

"I don't worry about the endings being belly laughs," he explained, "the payoff line may be a bit of a letdown. But by the use of dialect and added material I try to get laughs all through the telling of a joke."

Donald's voice mimicry has stood him in good stead through the 17 years of his 27 that he has spent before a microphone. He's been a frequent contributor to programs involving portrayal of world figures and only last week he had to dream up a version of British Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee in quick order. Most of his imitations are authentic but he never had heard Attlee speak.

"I just based the voice on what I could learn about him," Donald said. "I knew he had a mayfair background and went to Oxford; also that he is not a very inspired speaker. I haven't been sued yet."

When the Noel Coward-Brooklyn feud was at its height last year Donald appeared on a program both as Coward and Sid Ascher, who is the prime mover against maligners of Brooklyn. The next day Ascher's mother asked her son what kind a fellow Coward really is and why hadn't he told her he was going to appear on the radio with the noted playwright.

Almost from the time of his arrival here in 1927 from his native England Donald has been involved with radio. There were several years when it was nothing unusual for him to appear on 12 to 24 programs weekly. One week he hit a peak of 43 programs. At present he is practically loafing, confining himself mostly to the Jerry Wayne show and the two weekly broadcasts of "Can You Top This?" Monday in Philadelphia he finished a summer re-

Advising the Mothers-to-Be

By HERMAN N. RUNDEN, M.D.
The child-bearing time is often an anxious one for the mother-to-be and yet, if she understands the facts about her condition, her fear can quickly be relieved. For this reason, Doctor Leonard H. Biskind of Cleveland has outlined answers to questions which frequently concern mothers at this time.

The process of child-bearing ordinarily begins with pains either in the lower back or across the abdomen. The pains may often be like those which occur at the regular periods in some women. The first pains come on at irregular intervals for several hours, the intervals ranging from ten to thirty minutes or more. Gradually the intervals get shorter while the pains last longer, and are more severe.

False Labor
Occasionally, during the last month of the child-bearing time the mother-to-be will have pains in her back and abdomen, which strongly suggest that the birth of the baby is about to occur. However, after several hours, these pains usually disappear. Such pains are called false labor pains. The mother-to-be should be prepared to go to the hospital when the pains have been coming at five to eight minute intervals for a period of one to two hours, particularly with the first baby. On the average, with the first baby, the period of delivery usually lasts from twelve to twenty-four hours, but with subsequent babies the period is shortened to six to twelve hours and often less.

Tub Baths Taboo
During the last months of pregnancy the use of tub baths is inadvisable. Shower or sponge bathing is preferred, but care must be taken in the shower to keep from falling. It is a good plan also when the pains begin, to avoid eating since an anesthetic to put the mother-to-be to sleep is often used during the delivery, and by not eating, vomiting can be avoided.

Various types of preparations are used for pain relief. The physician, of course, will decide in each case what preparation may be best employed without endangering either the mother or the infant. A new method of pain relief called caudal analgesia is being used in many cases in recent months. Many patients, also, are given an injection of vitamin K upon admission to the hospital. This is the vitamin which helps to lessen the dangers of excessive bleeding, and also aids in preventing the bleeding into the brain of the baby.

Another good thing to remember is that it is not a good plan to have too many visitors while in the hospital since they create much confusion, and interfere with the patient's care.

SYNOPSIS

Eleonore Lawrence, Air Raid Defense worker in Sweetburg—a town humming with war industry and rumors of saboteurs—has a secret assignment from the Counter Intelligence Corps which explained that one of its agents, planted in a group of aliens nearby, was having difficulty getting reports to C. I. C. headquarters. The coded messages were to be left in discarded cigarette packets at designated places near the Lawrence home. Eleonore agreed to retrieve and mail them to a certain address. The Lawrence household consists of "Grandma" Lawrence; Sukey, Eleonore's small sister; and Mamie, maid of all work. Eleonore's brothers, Arthur and Eben, are in the Navy and Coast Guard respectively. Eleonore was the recipient of several spy-expose books, and secretly hoped the anonymous sender might be William Steuben, who had visited the Lawrences months ago, but from whom she had heard nothing since. The adjoining Wolfe estate, long vacant, has been leased by B. Stead Jones of New York, and Eleonore noticed an attractive blonde on the grounds as she and Roof, her police dog, returned from their daily search. At home she finds the distinguished looking Jones visiting Grandma. He explains that his wife is in an invalid and that he is interested in "hunting Fifth Columnists". He makes an alluring offer for the rental of their house, which he desires for one of his friends—but Eleonore turns it down. Jones warns Eleonore against walking along the lonely mountain road "because of the rough crowds employed at the rubber factory nearby." A week later, Roof disappears.

... Unknown to Eleonore, Bill Steuben is a C.I.C. agent. After successfully posing as a Nazi sympathizer in New York, he was sent to the school of sabotage now being conducted at the Jones' mansion by the mysterious Carlotta. Bill recalls his first meeting with the Nazi agent, Baalsh Jones.

CHAPTER EIGHT
Vaguely the name of Baalsh Jones, the writer, was known to Steuben, and hints of Fascist leanings clung around it. Their host in his early forties, olive-skinned, alert dark eyes under sleepy lids, a figure of sartorial smartness—moved about his library, mingling with his half a dozen guests. Bill felt his appraising eyes on him a number of times.
Steuben was invited to visit Jones alone a few nights later. He brought Jones' books on sociology and asked him to autograph them, a tribute which seemed to mellow the writer. On the third evening spent together over excellent Scotch, he learned that Jones had been promoting Fascism in an underground way in America ever since Hitler came to power. He launched into venomous denunciations of democracy. "Have another drink!"
Bill put his hand over his glass. "No more, I haven't the plumbing." "Sissy!" chuckled Baalsh Jones. "Little magazines, monthlies, weeklies—and always within the law. Within the law," he repeated. "Such is part of our propaganda technique." "That takes money," hinted Bill. Jones snapped his fingers. "We have that." Then he went on, "What is one of the deepest of popular interests? I'll tell you—the mystical. That's Hitler's appeal to millions. He has let it become bruited abroad that he is guided by divine intuition. This city is a breeding place for those who think or pretend they have some contact with the super-sensual through themselves or mediums. Ordinarily hard-headed, many are gullible where any revelation is pre-supposed."

"That's beyond my depth."
A smile lurked around Baalsh's eyes. "One of my pamphlets was concerned with super-sensory revelation. It has given me considerable reputation in occult circles."
Steuben made silent note that Baalsh's books on sociology or even cover training. They go over you with emery wheels; you're a smooth article when you come out." Baalsh's dark eyes sparkled under their heavy lids; he smiled reminiscently. "A school run by a woman, Bill; yes, a very demon of a woman, a powerhouse of intelligence, grounded and perfected in all the Luray Caverns of treachery by The Source."
"Himmler?"
"Why not? Carlotta is carrying on here. To advantage. Remarkable person, re-markable. Young, attractive, yet sex-motivated, never interfere!" Baalsh grinned. "Orders from on high. She takes only the cream of the prospect crop. I told her you never sleep. ... By the way, how long have your folks been in this country?"
"Over thirty years," answered Bill. "Thinking: If I told him that my great-grandfather sprang for his life from Germany in 1848 ..."
"I've given her your record. It's one way of getting into the 'know'. You're ambitious, I hope?"
"Who wants to stay at the bottom?"
"That's the spirit!" Then Baalsh's dark face glowered. "Some trouble lately. One of those economic door-to-door evangelists got inside the other day with his tracks and phonograph records. It looked good—money—as if we were tailed. We're going to move the school from New York, somewhere upstate, the Catskills or western Massachusetts. Even southern Vermont. I have the job of location."

"I saw a honey of a place in the Berkshires last summer," volunteered Bill.
Jones was interested. "The Berkshires? Where?"
"I was up to the Music Festival and a gang of us picnicked on one of those winding, lonely roads. It rained and we took to the porch of a big house, boarded up and a 'For Sale' sign on it. Someone said that a former ambassador to Turkey had owned it. Mind you, the festival was on, thousands of people attended it, but we never saw a car the whole afternoon. Let me see if I can remember where it was."
Steuben was able to, without much difficulty, and Baalsh wrote the location down.

DON'T HEAD HIM OFF
YOUR PURPOSE in leading a No Trump game is perhaps partly to avoid opening suits bid by the declarer. More important, however, is the hope that you are leading the suit you guess to be your partner's long suit. If you score a fortuitous hit, and your partner then comes charging back with the rest of his suit, you don't want to head him off. You want the way open for him, so you should prepare the way at the start, if your three cards contain two honors, by using up one as your original lead. Otherwise you may block him later.

On the heart 6, the 10 was played from dummy. J from East and K by South. Seeing no good way to go for nine tricks unless he could get something in diamonds, South decided to hazard the heart suit being of only four cards. He prayed for that luck when he led the diamond J, which East won with the A. The luck he sought did not develop, but something better. When East returned the heart 5, it developed that West had the hearts blocked. He scored his Q and A, but couldn't put East in again to run the last two hearts. Consequently South walked off with 10 tricks all told, four in spades, one in hearts, three in diamonds and two in clubs.

Just notice what would have happened to South if West had made the correct "blocking" lead of the heart Q. No matter what South did about that or any other trick, he could not possibly have made his contract.

You could not very well expect West to lead the dummy's diamond suit against that, nor a spade into South's secondary bid, nor a club into the fitting suit. A heart was just about obligatory. So he led it. But he picked the wrong card, the 6, and so gave the declarer his contract on a silver platter, plus an extra trick.

Who should make the first bid on this deal? Why should he make it? What should the bid be?

Preserving The Fruit Crop

Don't let the sugar shortage scare you away from the idea of putting up your usual supply of jams and jellies. Preserving the fruit crop is just as important this year as ever. More so, in fact, since you're likely to have even greater use for sweeteners and spreads for bread in the months ahead than you've had in those just past.

So take the fruits as they come along, and make up for the scarcity of sugar by substituting light corn syrup for part of the cane sugar.

If you are in the habit of using bottled or powdered pectin in jam and jelly making, you can substitute the corn syrup for part of the sugar in any recipe as follows: 2 c. of corn syrup can be substituted for 2 c. of the required sugar in a recipe using liquid pectin, while if powdered pectin is being used, syrup may be substituted for one-half the sugar called for in the recipe.

Here are two good jam recipes worked out on this basis, one for peaches, the other for plums.

Peach Jam: Peel and pit about 2 1/2 lb. fully ripe peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Measure 2 1/4 c. sugar and 2 1/4 c. light corn syrup into bowl; set aside. Measure 3 1/2 c. prepared fruit into a 5 to 6 quart kettle filling up last cup with water if necessary. Place over high heat. Add 1 box powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar and syrup. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 min., stirring constantly. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly, and cover with paraffin at once. Makes about ten 6-oz. glasses.

Plum Jam: Pit (do not peel) about 2 1/2 lb. fully ripe plums. Cut in small pieces and crush. Add 1 c. sugar and 2 1/4 c. light corn syrup into bowl; set aside. Measure 2 1/2 c. sugar and 2 1/2 c. light corn syrup into bowl; set aside. Measure 2 1/2 c. prepared fruit into a 5 to 6 quart kettle, filling up last cup with water if necessary. Place over high heat. Add 1 box powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar and syrup. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 min., stirring constantly. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about eleven 6-oz. glasses.

Mr. G. C. Lincoln and daughter, Phoenix, Ariz., and Cleveland, and Mrs. A. J. Cassidy, who has been spending a week with the Lincolns in Cleveland, accompanied them to Circleville, where they visited Mrs. G. H. Colville. After a brief visit the Lincolns returned to Cleveland Tuesday and Mrs. Cassidy went to visit her daughter, Mrs. William Corrigal of Granite City, Ill., before returning to her home in Zanesville. Mrs. C. H. Lucas, Columbus, accompanied the other guests on their way to and from Circleville.

Miss Gretchen Moeller, East Union street, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moeller, Columbus, returned Monday evening from a two weeks vacation trip to Lake Nipissing, Ontario, Canada.

HELP SAVE POINTS WITH RECIPES PLANNED BELOW

One of my favorite meat dishes is Meat Balls cooked in Tomato Sauce. You can make the meat balls go further if you add ready-to-eat cereal or bread crumbs to the meat, but if you have points for enough meat for the persons you are going to serve, you can just follow the recipe. Use your own discretion. The Meat Loaf recipe will serve 6 and only uses 2 c. of meat—another way to make a small amount of meat go a long way.

Today's Menu

Meat Loaf or Meat Balls
Baked or Boiled Potatoes
Corn on the Cob
Sliced Cucumbers
Fresh or Stewed Fruit
Wafers or Cookies
Tea or Coffee, Iced or Hot

Meat Loaf
1 1/2 c. bread crumbs (beef, pork, veal or lamb)
2/3 c. milk 1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 c. tomato 1 tbsp. grated onion juice
1 tsp. salt 2 eggs, beaten
1 tsp. minced 1/2 tsp. celery parsley salt
2 c. ground meat

Mix bread crumbs, milk, tomato juice, salt, celery salt, pepper, onion, parsley and eggs together. Add meat and blend well. Place in a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 1 hour. Serves 6.

Meat Balls in Sauce
1 1/2 lbs. ground 1 small onion, beef chopped
1 tsp. salt 1/2 c. bread crumbs
1/4 tsp. pepper 1 or 2 eggs

Sauce
1 can tomato 1 large onion diluted with 1 chopped water, or green pepper
4 c. tomatoes, Salt and pepper canned

Put all ingredients into saucepan and cook gently for about 20 mins. Mix all meat ball ingredients well together, form into balls and drop into boiling sauce. Cook for 1 1/2 hour, or until done through, and serve on platter with sauce poured over meat. Serves 6.

A small quantity of meat will sharpen interest in salad meals and make them more satisfying. Lace the top of a tossed salad with pencil-thin strips of cold cuts, chicken, tongue or left-over meat. Bolster the salad further with plenty of crackers, jelly or jam, and a hearty milk drink. A salad provides a generous amount of needed vitamins, but it needs to be balanced with substantial energy-providing foods such as these.

Paint the underside of your awnings as well as the outside. This is a clever trick, as it will give color to an otherwise drab porch or terrace. If you paint the underside of an awning over terrace and porch sky blue, for instance, and the underside of the window awnings a shade to match each room's decorations, you have given an extra smart touch to your home.

To make the playing surfaces of such game boards as crokinole, shuffleboard, etc., smooth and slick, rub the surface with wax. Shooters glide more easily after this treatment.

The beaver is the largest member of the rodent family.

Salty Foods Guard Summer Pep

After a strenuous bout with the Victory Garden, safeguard summer energy with a snack of salt-sprinkled soda crackers and cool milk. Extra salt and extra liquid replace what is lost through perspiration and assure hot weather pep.

HOUSES COST LESS

CHICAGO—Americans are paying less than production cost for typical houses in two-thirds of all cities, according to a survey by the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards. The survey, which covered 324 cities with a combined population of over 35,000,000, revealed that dwelling prices had not increased in 20 per cent of the cities.

BEEF FLOATS BY

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—Great Falls residents stood on bridges spanning the Missouri River here and lined the river bank, gazing with wistful expressions while 1,800 pounds of beef—porterhouses, half tenderloins, rib and round steaks, and roasts—went floating with the current over the dams. The meat, so near and yet so out of reach, was in one big hunk. A dead bull, lost by an upriver farmer, was just that many red points wasted.

To remove burned food from the bottom of an enamel pan, fill the pan with hot water and add a tablespoon of water softener. Let stand overnight. You will be able to loosen the softened food and the remainder can be cleaned off with scouring powder.

CLEVELAND—Mrs. Paul A. Funtash advertised for a tricycle for her son Paul, Jr., a polo victim, for his second birthday. She didn't get away from the telephone all the next day. At least 50 persons called offering tricycles for the little boy, whose father is a sailor in the Pacific. The owner of the toy she chose would accept no payment. Neither would the other 49.

On June 1, firm employment was 291,000 below that of the same date last year. Decreases were noted in the number of both family and hired workers.

BLUE RIBBON 10 COPS 6-4 WIN

Coca Cola Bows To Allen's Pharmacy In District Softball Tourney

Blue Ribbon won and Coca Cola lost in the district softball tournament at Chillicothe Tuesday night.

Blue Ribbon advanced to the second round of the tournament with a 6-4 victory over Chillicothe Telephones. Coca Cola bowed 11-0 to Chillicothe Allen's Pharmacy.

In other games Junk's Service, Chillicothe blanked Chillicothe Community Council, 5-0 and Galyean's Portsmouth, won by forfeit from Wilson Hardware, Washington C. H. Wilson's forfeited when not enough players failed to show up. The club picked up one player and played an exhibition game with Galyean's, which the Portsmouth team won 3-0.

Coca Cola gave Allen's a good game until the seventh inning. The Chillicothe team was leading 3-0 when the seventh started, but eight runs were scored in that frame to make it a runaway. Jim Dade got the only hit off Harry Strawser, a bunt. Strawser fanned 9 Coca Cola batters.

Coca Cola will return to play in the consolation bracket.

"Snow" Seymour led the Blue Ribbon attack with three hits in four times up. Jay Gregg and Russ Gregg had two for three each. The locals counted a total of 10 hits.

Bill Elliott gave the Telephones five hits. Most of the runs came on errors, Blue Ribbon making five, three of them by Grover. Thursday night Blue Ribbon plays Galyean's, Portsmouth, at 7 p. m.

Tonight Stansbury-Stout will be the Circleville team in action at Chillicothe. The local club will meet Scheider Insurance, Washington C. H., at 7 p. m. Three second round games also will be played tonight.

GREAT LAKES IN FIRST LOSS TO BIG LEAGUERS

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Aug. 1.—Boz Feller's Great Lakes training station team today chalked up its first loss to a major league ball club this season after absorbing a 3 to 0 defeat from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

After both teams were held scoreless for nine innings the Pirates bounced three hits, a walk and a long fly in the tenth to score three quick runs and win the games.

Barret crossed after Frank Colman let loose a long fly to center.

Feller went the route for the Sailors, striking out ten and allowing ten hits.

Working out the joke routine for "Can You Top This?" is his toughest chore but it also gives him the most laughs. Like the time he received an indignant letter from a man who said he was going to sue the program for $500,000 because it had used a joke he had created and published in a book of jokes in 1943. The joke? That very old one about the goat with no nose. Then how does he smell? Bad.

BLUE RIBBON 10 COPS 6-4 WIN

Coca Cola Bows To Allen's Pharmacy In District Softball Tourney

Blue Ribbon won and Coca Cola lost in the district softball tournament at Chillicothe Tuesday night.

Blue Ribbon advanced to the second round of the tournament with a 6-4 victory over Chillicothe Telephones. Coca Cola bowed 11-0 to Chillicothe Allen's Pharmacy.

In other games Junk's Service, Chillicothe blanked Chillicothe Community Council, 5-0 and Galyean's, Portsmouth, won by forfeit from Wilson Hardware, Washington C. H. Wilson's forfeited when not enough players failed to show up. The club picked up one player and played an exhibition game with Galyean's, which the Portsmouth team won 3-0.

Coca Cola gave Allen's a good game until the seventh inning. The Chillicothe team was leading 3-0 when the seventh started, but eight runs were scored in that frame to make it a runaway. Jim Dade got the only hit off Harry Strawser, a bunt. Strawser fanned 9 Coca Cola batters.

Coca Cola will return to play in the consolation bracket.

"Snow" Seymour led the Blue Ribbon attack with three hits in four times up. Jay Gregg and Russ Gregg had two for three each. The locals counted a total of 10 hits.

Bill Elliott gave the Telephones five hits. Most of the runs came on errors. Blue Ribbon making five, three of them by Grover.

Thursday night Blue Ribbon plays Galyean's, Portsmouth, at 7 p. m.

Tonight Stansbury-Stout will be the Circleville team in action at Chillicothe. The local club will meet Scheidler Insurance, Washington C. H., at 7 p. m. Three second round games also will be played tonight.

TRAFFIC KILLS 11,160 DURING FIRST HALF '45

PARIS, Aug. 1—Capt. Horton Smith, the Joplin, Mo., "golfing ghost" who as a kid of 21 stunned the world's fairway fans by winning the French open, took a look today at the St. Cloud layout where the European G. I. golf championship was being decided and said it was as tricky as ever.

Smith, who scored one of his first great triumphs here in 1929 by beating Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Britain's great Henry Cotton, is serving as tournament director.

"This is now and always has been one of the world's trickiest layouts," he said.

One of Smith's former golfing colleagues, Cpl. Lloyd Mangrum, who came back after 19 months in a hospital due to a jeep accident, took the early lead in the professional division yesterday with a first round 69, three strokes better than Cpl. G. E. Nowak, a fellow Los Angeles professional.

Mangrum, former Ryder cup star, played as a representative of Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army. Nowak represented the Army communications zone.

Working out the joke routine for "Can You Top This?" is his toughest chore but it also gives him the most laughs. Like the time he received an indignant letter from a man who said he was going to sue the program for $500,000 because it had used a joke he had created and published in a book of jokes in 1943. The joke? That very old one about the goat with no nose. Then how does he smile? Bad.

GERMAN JUNKERS 290 PLANE AT WRIGHT FIELD

DAYTON, Aug. 1—The first German Junkers 290, Germany's largest transport plane, to reach the United States has arrived at Wright Field here for testing and evaluation, the Air Technical Service Command announced today.

The ship arrived here shortly after noon Tuesday with a crew of 10 men including the pilot, Col. H. E. Watson, of Farmington, Conn. The big plane left Paris Saturday and made two stops en route to the United States, one at the Azores and one at Bermuda.

The ATSC said the Junkers was almost as large as the United States B-29 with a 138 foot wingspan and a gross load of 90,000 pounds. It was powered with four 1,750-horsepower air cooled radial engines giving it a top speed of 240 miles an hour.

Although normally used by the Nazis as a transport, the JU-290 also could be converted into a bomber. The plane which arrived here was captured near Munich three days before V-E day. It has a normal range of about 2,000 miles.

FHA INSURED MORTGAGES

WITH VETERANS' GUARANTEED EQUITY LOANS MAKE HOME OWNERSHIP EASY FOR SERVICEMEN

You Veterans soon will be hearing of Section 505 of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act. That is, you will, if like a couple of million of your buddies, you've been thinking of owning your own home.

Briefly, that Section provides a fully guaranteed equity loan towards the purchase of a home. The amount is ample for a substantial down-payment—just the start you need. Then, you'll want an FHA Insured Mortgage to finance the balance. These two loans add up to practically "fool-proof" financing for the Veteran.

What do we mean by "fool-proof"? Just this: That you—and every other prospective buyer—need protection today against possibly inflated real estate prices in certain areas. That you need the protection of an expert, unbiased analysis of the entire home-purchase transaction, including an appraisal of value based on a long-range view of the market; not upon temporary, speculative prices. That you need expert advice on the neighborhood, the site, the quality of construction, the workmanship.

FHA, that is, the Federal Housing Administration, does all that. And you can bet on this: When FHA tells you that it will insure your mortgage, you can be fairly certain you're not paying too much for your home. Just reason it this way: FHA won't take a risk that you shouldn't take!

So, when you are ready to discuss owning your own home, come in and let us help you arrange the necessary financing. We particularly welcome inquiries from Veterans.

POLICE HOLD VET WHO WANTED TO JUMP IN RIVER

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—A man who identified himself as Elmer Sayre, 21, a discharged veteran, was held for observation at Bellevue hospital today after hiring a cab to take him to the East river so he could jump in.

Cabbie William Donegan said Sayre hopped into his cab yesterday and said:

"Drive me to the East river. I want to jump in." Then his fare asked him, Donegan said, "Is the East river good and deep?"

Donegan said, "sure" as he pulled up in front of a police station. He said Sayre didn't seem to mind the change in destinations. He calmly stepped out of the cab, paid his 60 cent fare, and gave Donegan a 20 cent tip.

GERMAN JUNKERS 290 PLANE AT WRIGHT FIELD

DAYTON, Aug. 1—The first German Junkers 290, Germany's largest transport plane, to reach the United States has arrived at Wright Field here for testing and evaluation. The Air Technical Service Command announced today.

The ship arrived here shortly after noon Tuesday with a crew of 10 men including the pilot, Col. H. E. Watson, of Farmington, Conn. The big plane left Paris Saturday and made two stops en route to the United States, one at the Azores and one at Bermuda.

The ATSC said the Junkers was almost as large as the United States B-29 with a 138 foot wingspan and a gross load of 90,000 pounds. It was powered with four 1,750-horsepower air cooled radial engines giving it a top speed of 240 miles an hour.

Although normally used by the Nazis as a transport, the JU-290 also could be converted into a bomber. The plane which arrived here was captured near Munich three days before V-E day. It has a normal range of about 2,000 miles.
